

Community Network ONLINE Workshop

January 29, 2008
9:30 - 12:00 CST

Keewaywin First Nation, in partnership with Keewaytinook Okimakanak and Community Wireless Infrastructure Research Project (CWIRP) is conducting a workshop discussing First Nation Community Networks. As community networks grow, they build capacity and improve access to services. The workshop will celebrate the growth and learn from the experiences of the First Nation local community network. First Nations will share their journeys, strengths and future plans. If you would like share a story of how your community uses the network and/or video conferencing and meet others who are working to make their community network better, join us January 29, 2008!

Please book your video conference site as a participant at least three-days prior to the workshop. To participate by video conference please contact:

Martina Kanakakeesic martinakanakakeesic@knet.ca
KO Research Institute 216 S. Algoma St. Thunder Bay P7C 3V6 ph: 877.737.5638 X 1266 Please fax back to 807.768.4817

YES! I will be attending by V/C

Name: _____

Community: _____

V/C unit location: _____

Technician contact # _____

View Live Workshop

Play ▶ 0:00 High | Low

Visit the workshop website:

www.meeting.knet.ca

▶ Live Video Stream ▶ Technician Stories ▶ Online Discussions

Everyone is welcome including: community, clinic and school technicians, YICT workers, volunteers and community members.

